I signed up for the Gold Programme with Denise Taylor one month ago.

I have researched and approached various career consultants/ psychologists over the past 5 years but have suffered ongoing disappointment and setbacks. A lot of these alternative consultant organisations that I have researched offer a generic service. I felt somehow over looked, and that my best interests, best suited career or my true potential were completely neglected.

In January this year (2009) I completely hit rock bottom. Having gone through two redundancies since 2002 and continued failed attempts of securing a stimulating job and finding my true vocation I finally emailed Denise in October, (last month).

What can I say other than what a truly remarkable, knowledgeable and professional woman Denise Taylor is.

Denise is an expert in her field and she really does know how to channel this expertise. Her service is personal to each individual and this is what makes her programmes such a success.

I was prepared to work thoroughly through each stage of the programme and expected that the revelation of my ideal profession could take some time, even months. However one month on and I am pleased to announce that I have finally found my best suited profession. After 8 years of searching I have finally got back my life and a vision of a remarkable life and career at that.

I owe this to Denise's expert guidance. I would still be searching and wasting more valuable time if it wasn't for Denise.

I can now breathe a huge sigh of relief from the stress that I have carried for all these years and now breathe in all the excitement of all the goals I can set for myself and look forward to a rewarding and happy career, filled with all the things that I'm really looking forward to doing.

Denise, thank you so much. I will never forget all that you have done for me.
